

Ernest F. Coe Visitor Center Gallery

Frequently Asked Questions

Will I be able to set up my exhibit earlier than the 1st of the month?

There are exhibits continuously scheduled, so it is often not feasible to schedule or expect an earlier set up.

Is there a fee to apply or exhibit in the Gallery?

There is no cost to apply, exhibit or set-up in the Gallery.

Will I be able to sell my artwork during the exhibit?

It is our policy that works displayed are not for sale and are not commercially available while being exhibited. However, the artist may provide a price list to be kept at the visitor center front desk.

How is the Gallery promoted?

The Park issues a press release for each monthly art exhibit, as well as updates on the Park's social media sites.

How can I exhibit during the busy winter months?

We understand that many exhibitors would prefer a winter month, but the goal of the Gallery is to enhance visitor experience through art regardless of total number of visitors.

Can I request a specific month?

Park Staff selects exhibitors based on criteria that best supports the Gallery mission and goals. Requests for specific months are not accepted.

How many pieces of art can be included in my exhibit?

There is no set minimum or maximum number of pieces required. Each exhibit will be advised on a case by case basis depending on the size of each piece included. Artwork must be visible but not cluttered.

What materials are provided to artist to set up their exhibit?

The Gallery can provide 5 (H: 68 in., W: 49 in.) portable double-sided felt panels, 3 wooden easels, hooks and pins to assist in setting up your exhibit. There is also an adjustable wire hanging set up along walls A, B, D and E. Feel free to bring additional materials you may need.

Can I place printed flyers I commissioned, near my exhibit?

There will be a small table provided where you may place a guest book (not provided) and/or flyers. Keep in mind the flyers may include information about the exhibit at the Park, about the artist, but may not have price lists visible.

Do I need to submit work samples?

Work samples and other artist/artwork specifics may be requested at a later date to assist Park staff in the selection process.

What does the artist reception entail?

The artist reception is an optional venue for the artist to be present in the Gallery to meet visitors. It is an opportunity to connect with visitors and provide them an opportunity to meet and ask you questions.

Can an exhibition include more than one artist?

Yes. If you choose to exhibit as part of a group, you are not eligible for a solo exhibition during the same calendar year.

An unforeseen circumstance has come up. Will I be able to cancel my exhibition?

Yes. We understand that unexpected situations can arise. We only ask that the artist provide notice in advance if possible.
